Dear Parents/Carers

World Book Day

World Book Day is fast approaching, on Thursday 4th March 2021.

As I mentioned in the weekly bulletin before half term, we want this event to go ahead as scheduled. As a whole staff, we have planned a variety of exciting and engaging activities for the day. Students will be learning about a range of different books, linked to our various subject areas. For example, in Maths, students will be looking at The Hunger Games and focusing on the clock face of the arena. In Science, students will be looking at the classic novel Frankenstein and its real-life applications.

We are encouraging students to dress up as their favourite character from a book. There will be prizes in each year group for the best dressed. Please email your entries to rushton-plant@queenelizabeths.derbyshire.sch.uk

As always, you are entitled to a £1 book token which can be spent on buying the £1 special World Book Day books or on reducing the cost of another book. These will be available to be distributed once we are back in school but there is a link to a PDF version here so that you can download it and spend when you want.

Finally, there are a whole host of quizzes organised by the Library staff to get involved with, as well as their main competition, details of which are attached to this letter. Enjoy the day!

Yours faithfully
