

QEGS – Reward QEGS POINTS

- Reward QEGS Points appropriately for demonstrating our values to help create a positive and purposeful learning environment

Use Go4Schools to add QEGS Points

Reward QEGS points at the end of every lesson. Simply decide whether students have fully met expectations or mostly met expectations and award accordingly.

Positive Behavioural Interventions and Supports (PBIS) research highlights that point-based reward systems can decrease disruptive behaviour and increase prosocial behaviour.

Positive On call – Celebrating success in the moment

At any point during your lesson, you can use the positive 'On Call' button on Go4Schools to instantly recognise and reward students who are going above and beyond, whether it's an individual, a small group, or the whole class.

A member of staff will visit your classroom to personally celebrate the achievement, reinforcing that outstanding effort, behaviour, or teamwork doesn't go unnoticed.

This is a fantastic way to boost motivation, build confidence, and award extra QEGS Points to those making a real difference in our learning community.

QEGS points leaders (idea) – Making Recognition Count

Consider appointing a QEGS Point Leader in each class to remind you to award points at the end of the lesson.

You could also ask students to reflect on their own and others' behaviour – encouraging them to take ownership and help decide how many points should be awarded.

A simple way to keep positivity at the heart of every lesson!

After you have added your QEGS points - ALWAYS END and SEND students in the same way (watch the video for guidance)
